Our greatest industry at the present time is the business of Dr. W. S. Rice, the specialist, who employs many men and women, and has branch offices in Boston, Mass., Toronto, Ontario, and London, England.

Mr. A. L. Rice manufactures oil and powder paints and has an extended trade even from Alaska to South Africa. One of its infant and rapidly growing industries is the Lewis Box and Package Company. The boxes are made under patents granted to our townsman L. D. Lewis.

P. 241 Town of Champion.

From 1799 to 1804 settlers came rapidly. These include Rices.

P. 252

Three grandchildren of Joel Mix survive, among whom are Mrs. M. C. Rice, of West Carthage.
